GIGANTIC CERTAIN-TEED PRODUCTS MERGER LOOMS WORK RUSHED ON SAN PABLO

GLIDDEN FIRM MENTIONED AS COMBINE AIM

Issuance Of Additional Stock Pointed Out As Confirmation

Rumors of the pending merger of the Certain-teed Products Corporation with other allied companies, chief among which the Glidden company is mentioned, were strengthened yesterday by advices that the Certain-teed company has called the stockholders to a special meeting to authorize additional stock.

The Certain-teed has been reported as flirting with other companies for an extension of its business and it is pointed out that unless consummation of the deal was thought near, it was hardly likely that the management would call for more stock to be authorized.

Local officials of the Certain-teed plant in Richmond were last night unable to predict the direct result the proposed merger would have as concerns the Richmond branch.

Tiller To Build New Home Here

A semi-Spanish residence will be built for Frank Tiller under the direction of Ernest Flores, architect. The house will be built on the west side of Dimm avenue between Barrett and Nevin avenues, and will have five rooms. The approximate cost of the structure will be $6000.

In the front of the lot on which the house is to be built a large rock juts up, and the front of the house will be built around it in an artistic fashion.

Former Local Man Now Proud Father

Word was received here yesterday of the birth of a daughter to the wife of Joe A. Viano, former Richmond resident, at Atascadero this week. Viano is the 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. John Viano, 175th street, and is now instructor in agriculture at Atascadero high school. Mrs. Viano was formerly Miss Florence Shaw, popular University of California co-ed.

MRS. MCGINTY ON TRIP

Mrs. T. J. McGinty, of 539 Tenth street, left Thursday morning for an extended motor trip through northern California, Canada, and Yellowstone National Park.

McCONNELL'S LEAVE ON VACATION

Mr. and Mrs. W. McConnell, 23 Washington avenue, will leave today for a two months' stay at Whispering Pines, Middletown, Lake county.

HARDWARE FOR HOME BUILDERS

You will find the Architect a crank on hardware—specifications. He insists that the hardware must be of a quality that will last, and of such design as will harmonize with the architecture and the scheme of decoration. Consult the Builders Guide for the kind of hardware that Architects specify.

Par's Bound

BOUND for Paris to obtain a divorce from Jack Pickford, film actor, Marilyn Miller has left Chicago. Miss Miller said her husband will follow in a few days. Both will take residence in France until the divorce is obtained. There would be no alimony, Miss Miller said in Chicago.

LABOR TEMPLE BIDS TO OPEN

Bids will be opened next week for the renovation of the Richmond Labor temple at Fourth and Macdonald avenue, according to announcement made yesterday by Ernest Flores, architect. The second story of the building will be transformed into rooming houses with modern fixtures, although there will be thirty rooms. The outside of the building will be painted and repaired, and the cost will be around $10,000, Flores said.

Negotiations are now on for the leasing of the rooming establishment, but no definite move has been made yet.

Glenn Conn Is Given Scout Honor Badge

Glenn Conn was awarded a first class badge at a meeting held by the Boy Scouts of Troop 2 last night under the direction of Scoutmaster Julius Geritz. Conn who is the first member of the troop to receive the coveted honor, was presented with the badge by Scoutmaster R. Cox.

Duty badges, indicating meritorious work during the year, were won by Glenn Conn, Griffin Carey, Frank Barnhardt, Ira Cole, Irwin Ridley, Walter Christensen and Albert Shaw.

Walter Christensen was presented with a first-aid kit for having sold the most tickets to the recent Boy Scout show at the Roosevelt auditorium.

At the conclusion of the meeting last night the boys enjoyed a feed arranged by Mrs. Geritz, to whom a vote of thanks was given for her assistance to the troop throughout the year.

LOCAL WOMEN TO N. Y.

Mrs. Mary Granat of 619 Fourth street, and Mrs. N. Osner of El Cerrito are leaving this morning for New York City. They will stop at Detroit and Chicago visiting friends and relatives. On their return trip they will stop in Los Angeles for a short time. The ladies expect to be gone three months.

500,000 ARE IN CAPITOL READY TO FETE FLYER

Streets Of Washington Buzz With Milling Crowds Today

CAPE HENRY, Va., June 10.—Nearing another triumphant journey, end, Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh entered the sheltering waters of his homeland late today aboard the cruiser Memphis.

While the official welcome waited until tomorrow at Washington, the young hero of the New York-Lindbergh solitary flight was welcomed enthusiastically from the rest of the land.

As the trim, low-lying cruiser slipped between the Virginia capes armed and heavy planes circled overhead in droves, carrying more to Lindbergh's ears the sweet music of the propeller's drone.

Trusty "Weepin" Of Kit Carson's Now Messenger's

Loaded for war and buffed once, Kit Carson's trusted "weepin'" finds the sure finger of the herder about no more on its ancient trigger, but poses at ease among the prize possessions of Police Sergeant H. A. Messenger.

The old muzzle loader was given to him by Jim Liken, Carson's father-in-law, while the two were on a hunting trip.

She hasn't been fired for 27 years and her barrel is rusted, and hangs apathetically from the stock. The rifle is six feet long—a good size load for even Carson—with a barrel of more than four feet. It is of the cap and ball type, made in England in 1815.

It was used by Carson to provide buffalo meat to a Colorado army post and while acting as mediator among the Indian tribes.

Mrs. Cox To Be Laid At Rest

Funeral services for Mrs. Della Cox, wife of Chief of Police Dan Cox, will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Wilson and Kratzer funeral chapel, Beacon street, under the direction of the Eastern Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, which will be in charge of the services. Interment will be at Sunset View cemetery, Dr. Thomas A. Boyer will officiate.

Pall bearers will be City Councilman W. W. Scott, Fire Chief W. P. Cooper, Police Inspectors Liver Wylie and Louis E. Jones, Officers Harry C. Donnelly and L. M. Johnson.

Elk Clubrooms Redecorated

Redecoration of the Elk clubrooms at Tenth and Macdonald avenue will be completed in about a week, according to Ernest Flores, architect. The job will cost about $2100. The work is being done by Zeb Knott, contractor.

Bridge Fender Would Require $500,000 Says Span Engineer

Derleth Estimates 1 Year As Time Required To Build Protection

WASHINGTON, June 10.—Charles Derleth, Jr., designer of the Carquinez bridge, finished a series of conferences with army engineers yesterday relative to the building of fenders around the piers that will prevent serious damage to the bridge in case a passing ship crashes into one of them. The war department will await a further report from District Engineer Shultz at San Francisco before deciding on what type of fender should be built. It is unofficially estimated that the fenders will cost approximately $500,000 and will require a year to build.

Chinese Hate For 'Foreign Devils' And West Is Told

That the masses of Chinese hate the "foreign devils" just as they always have is the statement of William Gande, formerly of the East Bay, who now lives in Shanghai, in a letter to the Record-Herald. Gande also says that there is undoubtedly an influence being brought to bear on the Nationalist party by the Bolsheviks.

Gande claims that if the British troops had not arrived in time there would have been a massacre of all foreigners in Shanghai. Gande graduated from Oakland Technical High School last January and went to join his father in Shanghai just when hostilities were starting in China.

He has lived in the International Settlement since his arrival there. That famine is not caused by lack of work, but by physical disability, is Gande's belief. He says that everyone who is able is working and that only cripples and persons otherwise disabled are out of work.

The Chinese are great party fans, he says, and avidly attend the large race track in Shanghai. The purses for first place in one of the spring races was $100,000. The races lasted four days.

Gande plans to return to Oakland in August when he will enter the University of California.

194 GRADUATE TO JUNIOR HIGH

One hundred ninety-four elementary students of Richmond schools received cards of promotion into Roosevelt Junior high school yesterday.

Grant schools had the highest number of graduating students, with 60. Graduates at the other schools were as follows: Lincoln, 51; Peres, 14; Washington, 30; Nystrom, 16; Stage, 32; Alhambra, 31; Kensington, 7; Harding, 10. Pullman has no high grade.

In Kensington and Harding schools, the latest additions to Richmond's educational system, the promotions are from the low seventh to the high seventh, the latter class being maintained in the schools. Fairmont graduating students will go into the eighth grade at Roosevelt.

Four New Homes In North Richmond

Marking further building activity in North Richmond, came announcement yesterday that four more homes are now under construction in that district.

Louis Genio is having a four-room cottage erected, with George Grasser doing the work. The lot will also build three more cottages in North Richmond within the next month, it was announced.

SHOES TO PINCH AND KEEP IT UP, SAY SHOE MEN

(By Universal Service)
SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—Corns and bunions will continue to suffer for style and chilblains need have no fear that the new, shorter, narrower and tighter shoe models their business is going to suffer during the next year, at least.

This all came out today when the advance guard of the California Shoe Dealers' association which is to convene here tomorrow, arrived.

One hundred and twenty-five jobbers, who had the latest streamlined models fully equipped on display, agreed that women simply will not buy high shoes or low shoes that spread over wide area. Snow shoes are the only variety that have stayed in style, they say.

So the short vamp, narrow, thin-soled foot apparel will continue to pinch and squeeze for another year at least.

Justice Roth Returns

Justice of the Peace John Roth has returned from a week's outing in Yosemite Valley. During his absence the justice court was presided over by Justice A. H. MacKinnon of El Cerrito and Justice L. F. Grover of San Pablo.

AT HOTEL CARQUINEZ

Opera Score

LITA MAY, coloratura soprano, who made her New York operatic debut recently when she sang the title role in "Lucia" with the Metropolitan Opera company. Lita May has sung in concert and with the Chicago Civic Grand Opera company.

ELECTRIC SIGN TO BE LIGHTED

Richmond's electric sign at Macdonald and San Pablo avenues will soon be altered so that an arrow pointing down Macdonald avenue to Richmond will be illuminated at night, according to a statement made yesterday by City Manager A. J. McVittie. The sign which signals the roadway at that point resembles the large electric sign at University and San Pablo avenue in Berkeley. The arrow which is to be illuminated, formerly could not be seen by approaching motorists at night.

Tennis Club To Award Radio In July

Making plans for their activities for the summer season, members of the Richmond Tennis Club held a lively business meeting last night in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

Decision was reached to award a complete radio set on July 15, and the following captains were appointed to be in charge of the four teams to dispose of the tickets: William Regalia, Henry Bill, A. F. Remell and Clare Bryant. The proceeds from the affair will be used to send the club's team on a number of important trips this summer.

Members of the club will gather at Alvarado Park next Wednesday night for the organization's regular monthly party. Games, dancing and refreshments are to be on the program for the evening. It was announced. The committee in charge is headed by Miss Vivian Peterson, assisted by Larry Phillips and Miss Helen Gately.

Announcement was made that the annual singles tournament will be commenced shortly for the Zeb Knott trophies. L. S. Fish is the men's champion, defeating Al Herman in the finals last year.

On July 10 the local racquetmen will meet the Santa Cruz netmen in a return match on the city hall courts. The Richmond players took seven out of nine matches from the Santa Cruz stars several weeks ago at Santa Cruz.

The tournament committees is made up of William Regalia, chairman; Lloyd Moore, A. S. Remell, Helen Gately and Mrs. Bob Radke.

Associated Oil Acquires Big Clyde Acreage For Expansion

New Purchase to Add to Avon Refinery; Water Development Seen

MARTINEZ, June 10.—Purchase of 290 acres of the Government Ranch near Clyde for addition to the Avon refinery of the Associated Oil company, was announced today by L. E. Mullen, manager of the Contra Costa Abstract & Title company. Rumors that the Avon plant would become of secondary importance were stillied by the announcement. This property lies directly across the highway from the plant and the Sacramento Short Line tracks from Clyde. A fifty foot strip gives a right-of-way to the Santa Fe line.

"Purchase of this very desirable property will pave the way for general development and enlarging of our Avon plant," said W. P. Hugo, superintendent of the Associated refinery this morning. "Our primary purpose in purchasing this holding is to increase our 'tank farm' where oil storage has now reached its maximum capacity and ultimate development with no room remaining for the building of more (Continued on Page 8.)

Slight Relapse Is Suffered By Restaurant Man

A slight relapse was yesterday reported for Harold Purviance, Richmond restaurant proprietor, whose sickness of the past four weeks' attracted such widespread attention. Dr. J. W. Baumgartner, attending physician, stated that the trouble was not of a serious nature.

Project Worker's Death Laid To Suffocation

A coroner's jury in the case of Ben De Soto, Mokelumne project worker, returned a verdict last night of death by "suffocation."

De Soto was painting the inside of a pipe with an inflammable solution when it became ignited. He was suffocated before the gates barring him access to fresh air could be opened.

BRADSHAW PLANS HOME IMPROVEMENT

A breakfast room and rear porch will be added to their home on the west side of Forty-first street between Potrero and State avenues by C. H. Bradshaw, according to a building permit issued yesterday by City Building Inspector A. J. Hurley. J. A. Fagerstrom will do the work at a cost of $300.

STRATTON ENTERTAINS POWDER OFFICIALS

R. H. Stratton, manager of the Giant Powder works, is entertaining as his guests for several days W. A. Layfield, vice-president of the Atlas Powder company and W. F. Wilson, general manager of the black powder division, both of Wilmington, Delaware.

W. A. Brown, popular Richmond insurance man, was yesterday removed from the U. S. hospital in San Francisco to his home, 1802 Bissell avenue. Brown recently underwent a serious operation in H. G. Keek, 1927 Garvin avenue, San Francisco, but his condition is now reported as improved.

GREATER PART OF CURBS AND GUTTERS LAID

Completion Of Paving Is Predicted As Matter Of Months

That the paving of San Pablo avenue, from the Santa Fe tracks on the south to the northerly city limits of this city, will be accomplished within several months seems assured following report yesterday by engineers in charge of the work that most of the curbs and gutters on the west side of the street have already been laid.

Actual paving of the street will not take place until all the curbs and gutters are in and the street car company has improved its tracks, it was announced yesterday.

The work, which will cost in the neighborhood of $171,000, is being done by the California Construction company. The pavement will consist of a cushion of four inches of broken rock, six inches of asphaltic concrete in two layers, and a two-inch wearing surface.

The portion of the avenue being paved extends from the Santa Fe tracks on the south to the northerly city limits, and is to be paved its entire width.

Paving of the avenue was felt a necessity by the city council because of the fact that the recent opening of the Carquinez bridge will make San Pablo one of the heaviest traveled highways in the state.

WHO CARES?

CHICAGO, June 10.—And now the women list what they do not like about men and incidentally the one thing they do like.

A reporter questioned several women today and here are the male atrocities:

Unfinished shoes.
Men unshaven.
Shirts sticking out of vests.
Socks that look like accordions.
Wild collars.
Dandruff.
Loose belts.
Pockets full of rubbish.
And they do like:
Men with character, no matter how they dress.

Operator Of Punch Board Gets Fine

Charged with violating section 330 of the Penal Code, relating to operating punch boards, S. Yocum, proprietor of a tobacco store at Sixteenth street and Macdonald avenue, was yesterday fined $100 by Police Judge C. A. Odell.

Yocum was arrested Thursday evening by Inspector L. E. Jones and Patrolman Cundy.

What it's all about
By PAUL ALLEN
ONE OF THE SEASON'S SIL-best ideas is to establish a college to help American poets obtain publication of their work.
This institution is to be established, we read, in honor of Walt Whitman. What a joke! When Walt wrote poetry he didn't need a college to help him break into print.
THIS WRITER'S UNASKED
opinion is that poetry and higher education don't mix any better than onions and ice cream do.
Poets are born that way. When you pump them full of synthetic information they begin to grind out stuff that is stiff, unhuman and unreadable. Our advice is to leave the poets alone. Most of 'em get over their early attack of verbification without assistance. And those who don't usually become good enough to get their poems published—also without assistance.

How To EARN MONEY at HOME.
By Sara Spence
I have a problem. I had a wife.
She left, I was in a bank but hated it and lost my position. Was a book salesman and hated the work.
I am out of a job and living on my old parents. I am discouraged.
Go from door to door and ask for work. The sooner the better!
Make up your mind to like your next job. You ought not to be discouraged. It is your poor old father and mother who are bearing the brunt.
I want to open a small army and navy store. Can you help me to buy supplies wholesale? E. L.
I advise you to go to the navy yards, to the government supply houses and to write to the department at Washington. Tell every one what you want to do. From many sources will come supplies.
I am a firm believer in mouth-to-mouth publicity. One person will always help another.
I am 24 years of age. How can get a position lettering curbstone.
as you advise? "NO, NAME."
I advise you to ring the next door bell and ask permission to letter the curbstone. Point out the difficulty people have in finding the house—autoists especially.
Tell them it is the style now. Get your trade that way.
Mrs. Sarah Spence will answer all questions on "How to Earn Money at Home." Address her care of this paper.

Irish Hearts
By MOLLIE MALONE
Copyright 1927, Warner Bros. Pictures, Inc.
"IRISH HEARTS," with May McAvoy, is a Warner Bros. pictureization of this novel.
SYNOPSIS
Emmett Murtough of Kiltanmail, Ireland, emigrates to America and is followed by Sheila Kildare, to whom he is betrothed, and her father, Sheila makes friends with the family of Rory O'Shea, a professional boxer whom Emmett scorns. Sheila begins to see through Murtough's boasting. Rory takes Sheila to Coney Island and for a trip in an automobile which inflames Murtough's jealousy. Rory is going away to camp to train for his coming fight with Campeau.
CHAPTER VI—Continued
"This fight will tell the tale. Win or lose, I'll know whether I'll ever go into the ring again. I might win; I've got a good chance, but to win wouldn't be proof that I am good enough to get any farther.
I'm not like most fighters. They stick to it hoping they can get by with luck. I don't. I know that I've gone back a lot; I fought too many fights too early, before I was fully developed. I'd like to win because the money would give me a chance at something else."
"Wouldn't it be splendid if ye could get into business, like your brother Tim?"
"I've thought of that and if I win this purse I'm going to ask Tim about it. If I don't win I'll have to get a job in something that has a future in it. Lots of ex-fighters stick around the game and become trainers or managers of fighters."
"We will," promised Sheila as he ran up the stairs.
"I'll never marry him an' 'tis a shame ye have no manhood in ye.
I'll find work myself if I need be but I'll never marry Emmett. Our savings are almost gone, too, an'
'tis little a girl can earn in this city, a girl that hasn't a trade or anything. Shame on ye, father, shame on ye."
"Oh, I'll find work that will suit my talents," the old man boasted.
"But ye ought to be getting married an' settle down, just the same."
But even though Emmett took the old man to the club and introduced him to his friends there, those who were ignorant of the bootlegging business, Old Tom Kildare found no job that was to his liking. The savings were exhausted. Murtough lent them some money, but though he was paid a great deal, he gambled and the liquor he bought consumed most of his earnings and it was little that he could do for them.
A month after Rory O'Shea had left for Jimmy Tree's training camp Sheila started out to look for any kind of a position that would pay the rent and keep the table.
It was far from the dream that Sheila had visioned when she left Kiltanmail many months before.
CHAPTER VII
Murtough's Change of Heart
Nick's Restaurant on Ninth Avenue was the popular cafe in the neighborhood where the Kildares lived. It was owned by N. Acropolis, a Greek, who had started business with an old fashioned lunch wagon and now possessed this fast money making establishment. It was frequented by many members of the West Side Club, among them Emmett Murtough. Occasionally he had taken Sheila there for supper. Nick was a good restaurant keeper; he knew food values and he hired competent chefs. In the day time, from eleven o'clock until nine o'clock at night, he employed waiters and waitresses. Men relieved them at that hour for the all night watch.
Sheila had answered a score of want advertisements but her lack of training and knowledge and any craft proved her to be unfit for any of them. The housekeeper of a hotel in the Forties, patronized by small time theatrical folk, had employed her as maid, but an experience with one of the mistresses so frightened Sheila that she applied for no more hotel chamber work.

THE PRESIDENT'S VACATION

President Coolidge has set one important public question at rest by naming the Black Hills as his summer home.

The most important thing now is to give him an opportunity to enjoy his vacation.

He is entitled to it. No man works harder than the American President. He is beset with worries and is open to all sorts of criticisms by virtue of the position he holds. His every act is under scrutiny. There is always a group of political enemies waiting for him to crack under the strain.

Everybody nags at him for things concerning which he is not responsible.

Efforts are constantly made to embarrass him. It's a place of great honor he holds, but a place that is not all pleasant.

The presidency killed Woodrow Wilson and Warren G. Harding.

It takes a man of Calvin Coolidge's calm temperament to shrug off the worries incident of office. But even he needs a vacation. Let him have it.

The sum of $32,000,000 was moved through Fifth Avenue safely the other day by 22 armed guards. But you will notice they didn't try to take it down Broadway.

for an unnatural laxative.
Only the purest of rice powder should be used on your skin, and at night you should be sure that all traces of it are removed. If you let it remain overnight it will clog the pores.
Helen R.: To clear your face of blackheads follow this simple method. Steam your face or bathe it in hot water to open the pores. Then carefully squeeze the unsightly blemishes. Then the face should be bathed in cold water or rubbed gently with ice. This will aid in closing the pores. Rigorous care of the skin and the utmost cleanliness however, are sure preventives for this ailment.

Mrs. T. S.: If you find that your skin is irritated by the use of soap—and there are many complexion too tender for even the purest castile—try using as a substitute almond meal, cornmeal or oatmeal.

CUTEST THING BABY EVER SAID
I once told my small son that it was sinful to tell a lie. Some time later I had to spank him for having been out in the driving rain, playing about, and returning home wringing wet. The following day it rained also, and at his ring of the doorknob I faced him with a severe expression. He refused to enter the house until I had solemnly promised him not to whip him. I promised. He edged in very slowly, ready to back out at a moment's notice, and I realized how dripping wet he was and held my hands to my cheeks.
"Now, member, mother, you'll get a sin," he cautioned as he flew past me. MRS. M. C. MART.

THE NEXT MORNING THE ENGLISH WENT ABOARD. DRAKE PLANNED TO DO SOME NECESSARY REPAIR WORK ON THE VESSEL AND STARTED BUILDING A FORT FOR SHELTER AND PROTECTION DURING THEIR STAY. IT WAS NOW THE TWENTIETH OF JUNE, 1579. WHILE BUSY AT THIS WORK LARGE GROUPS OF THE NATIVES APPEARED, DRESSED IN FULL WAR REGALIA. THE HOMAGE THEY SHOWED THE WHITE MEN NOW GAVE THE SOLUTION TO THE RIDDLE. THEY REVERED THE WHITE-FACED, CURIOUSLY GARBED VISITORS AS GODS, RATHER THAN MEN. THIS DISPLAY OF HEATHENISM—SHOCKED THE PROTESTANT MARINERS, AND THEY DID THEIR VERY BEST TO CONVINCE THE INDIVIDUALS THEY WERE BUT MEN, BUT THE CONVICTION THAT THEY WERE GODS REMAINED WITH THE SAVAGES. THERE NOW ENSUED A REMARKABLE SCENE. THE CHIEF OR KING OF THE INDIANS, WHO WERE ALL OF SUPE PHYSIQUE, CAME FORWARD, WEARING A COAT OF FUR SKINS, WITH ONE HUNDRED GUARDSMEN SOMEWHAT SIMILARLY GARBED, ALL WORE FEATHERS IN THEIR HAIR AND PAINTED THEIR FACES AFTER A CURIOUS FASHION. THE THING ENDED WITH WOMEN AND CHILDREN. EACH WOMAN BORE A ROUND BASKET OF WOVEN

RUSHES ADORNED WITH RED FEATHERS AND SHELLS OF PEARL, CONTAINING GIFTS OF FOOD. MEANWHILE, MANY WOMEN IN THE BACKGROUND RAISED THEIR VOICES IN CRIES AND SHRIEKS. THEY TORTURED THEMSELVES, TEAR-LOOSE STONES, TERRIBLY BRUISING THEIR BODIES. IT WAS A HORRIBLE SCENE OF HEATHEN SACRIFICE. SEEING IT, PEOPLE, THEN IN CEREMONIOUS FASHION, THE INDIANS STARTED TO DANCE AND CHANT. THE SCENE ENDED WITH ANOTHER ORATION, IN WHICH THE INDIANS PLEADED WITH DRAKE TO BECOME THEIR KING. TO PLEASE THEM DRAKE ACCEPTED THE SCEPTRE OF RULERSHIP IN THE NAME OF HER MAJESTY, QUEEN OF ENGLAND, AND TREATED THE INDIANS WITH THE UTMOST COURTESY AND GENEROSITY.

His One Regret Is That Dad Didn't Live To See Triumph

Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh took as his goal his father's own meteoric career. "If I can only be half the man father was," he told his mother once, "I am content." The boy who idolized his father, the man who was the world's greatest aerial transportation organization, Chamberlin will see all the work of the institution Saturday.

"MOTHER" LINDBERGH'S OWN STORY

By TOM R. B. in honor of ROBERT CAMPBELL. (Copyright, 1927, by New York Evening Graphic. All rights reserved. No part of this story may be reproduced in any form without permission.)

ARTICLE 3.

It was in Washington that Capt. Lindbergh "got most of his higher schooling." There, with his mother, he made his home while his father, famous Minnesota lawyer, was a member of Congress.

The boy attended Friends School, a private institution. He was greatly interested in history and all world events, but his penmanship was far from being a model of chirography.

The following anecdote of Capt. Lindbergh comes from his mother and is retold with the grace of a raconteur by his mother, Acting Mayor John C. Lodge of Detroit. "Charles," she says, "despising of the lack of improvement in his handwriting, threatened to tell his father."

"Why," said the youth, "father writes worse than I do."

THREE BIG PRINCIPLES

In a search of Capt. Lindbergh's eventual life—truth and fiction, fact and legend—three distinctive characteristics loom forth. They are the very pillars of the Lindbergh family. They are:

Grit, pride, independence!

Capt. Lindbergh "grew up" in Little Falls, Minn., in the "speed days" of the horse and buggy. He knew hard work—the hardest of all—plowing a field, with his feet in the overturned earth, he did his father's task, DREAMED, but never complained.

He doesn't know how to whine, but over lurking behind those blue unafraid eyes was a vision of ultimate success on HIS OWN—a heritage of his proud stock—a hope and aspiration to be as "big a man as father."

Charles Lindbergh idolized his father. They were vastly more than father and son. They were "chums" in the truest and closest sense of the word. The youth was ever at his father's heels. He worshipped him and was in turn adored.

Capt. Lindbergh is in no sense reckless, headless, rash or incautious. Neither is he lucky in that he takes needless chances in flying with danger or death.

He is the very reverse. He is methodical, systematic and orderly.

STUDIES PROBLEMS

He studies and digs and grinds over his aeronautical problems until he is SURE OF HIMSELF—until he has MASTERED every possible human equation.

And when he is satisfied in his own mind there is NO TURNING BACK.

One of his first mechanical problems that he SOLVED was in repairing a family clock. He took it apart and PUT IT TOGETHER AGAIN. He did the same thing with a tractor on his father's farm, located some two odd miles outside of Twin Falls.

ALWAYS EXPERIMENTING

He had a bicycle. That came apart until he knew every spoke, nut and cog and wheel—and WHY. Next came a motorcycle and a motor boat. He studied and operated machines until he learned to fly and bought his first "cloud bus."

He was always experimenting, striving, devising, planning new ways, new improvements, never satisfied to "log placidly along."

And whatever he took to, he became expert. With pistol and shot-gun he became a crack marksman. When he joined the Missouri National Guard—which some flippantly at one time referred to as "tin soldiers"—he took it SER-

As Flyers Circled Over Mauretania

"TELL THE WORLD we're nearly there," was the exultant message conveyed to passengers on the Cunard liner Mauretania by the evolutions of Chamberlin (seen in cockpit) and Levine in the Bollanca plane, which circled the liner 300 miles west of England before continuing its record-breaking flight. The compositograph reproduced here, made according to descriptions, shows how the plane appeared over the Mauretania at the most dramatic moment of its flight. Only fifteen miles away Capt. Charles A. Lindbergh, first America-to-France flyer was aboard the cruiser Memphis on his way home. He did not see the Bollanca plane.

PRIDE AS AN INVENTOR

Time and again as a youth in Twin Falls he had come to grief with his inventions on their initial try, but undaunted he'd patch them up and keep at it until he had SUCCEEDED.

MRS. C. A. LINDBERGH (above left) says her now famous son knew hard work as he grew up. While he piloted a plow, he thought hard, but never complained. His hope and aspiration was to be as "big a man as his father" (right). He had the characteristics of the Lindbergh family—grit, pride and independence.

Pastor Attempts To End Life

FRESNO, June 10. (Reported by his commissioners to have been crushed in a romance which may have more than two angles, the Rev. Walter M. Haushalter, 37, newly confirmed pastor of one of Fresno's largest churches, attempted to end his life today in his church study.

Dr. Haushalter was found by his predecessor, Rev. Meade Duff, at whose home Haushalter had lived since his arrival here, a month ago, from Columbia, Missouri.

The young pastor, former head of the Christian church of the Missouri city, was understood at the time of his accepting the call here to have planned an early marriage to a girl of that city.

Whether some complicating element entered into his romance in the form of a conflicting love is something that cannot be known until the pastor regains consciousness.

Last Rites Held For P. F. Carlan

Last rites were held yesterday morning at St. John's church in El Cerrito for Patrick F. Carlan, who passed away Tuesday at his home, 3013 Cutting boulevard. Interment took place in St. Mary's cemetery, Oakland, where Carlan, a native of Ireland, was 75 years of age and had resided in Richmond for 25 years. He leaves his widow, the only relative in this section.

Hadley Rites Are Conducted

Final tribute to the memory of Walter Hadley, 19, killed last Sunday with three companions in an automobile accident near San Lorenzo, was paid at services conducted by Richmond chapter, Order of De Molay, yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Wilson and Kratzer chapel.

Rev. Charles G. Lindemann, pastor of Wesley Methodist church, delivered the eulogy. Brother De Molay members acted as pall bearers. Interment was in Sunset View cemetery.

Hadley was the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Hadley, 255 Fifteenth street, and was employed at the Standard Oil plant.

Moose Initiate Eight Candidates

Eight candidates were initiated by the Moose lodge No. 550 at their meeting in Moose hall. A banquet followed the initiation and was arranged for A. G. Olson, John Oberg, and Mike Kelley.

A dance to take place June 25 at East Shore park was planned. Chick Barry's orchestra will provide the music. The committee to plan the dance is: P. F. Barry, chairman, Ed Ridley, and Mike Kelley.

On June 14, Tuesday, the entire lodge will go to the Alacosta legion meeting in Oakland where the plans for the next frolic will be discussed. On Sunday, June 25, the drill team of the local lodge will go to Walnut Creek to make the journey in any kind of

BERLIN HONORS U. S. BIRDMEN IN LYRIC SONG

Lyric Enthusiasm

The song, which is being sung vociferously in the principal cabarets, was written by Walter Killo, popular composer of operettas. It is entitled "Chamberlin and Levine," and was translated into basty English for the American dinner tonight.

The text, in English, follows:

"We Germans are, you know, a most phlegmatic nation.

"And yet a Tempelhof we almost died of expectation;

"But when we heard at last you were all right, and near—

"Levine and Chamberlin, that was good news to hear.

"Such a day and night this town has never seen.

"As Tuesday night, O Chamberlin and Levine.

"Americans and Germans, let us unite our hearts in thanking God this happy night.

"For it was God's protecting hand, that has led them safely to our land.

"All terrors of the seas fled at his high command—

"In cities and on land, there is no other story:

"But of the boys from over there who are their nation's glory.

"And when you sail from her, do bear it well in mind—

"Levine and Chamberlin, you leave good friends behind;

"Friends who will never forget how you came from the sky.

"As heralds of a new and more glorious century."

Today, Chamberlin and Levine rode with American Ambassador Jacob Schurman to the city hall, where Mayor Boes greeted them and presented them with medals. Their signatures were then placed in the golden book.

Thousands of persons lined the Unter Den Linden, and cheered the Americans.

Ambassador Schurman replied to Mayor Boes' greeting to the flyers.

"Like Lindbergh," he said, "Chamberlin has shown the world by his brave deed that crossing the ocean in airplanes is possible for men of energy and determination."

"The establishment of regular and safe air-service between Europe and America is the high goal to which we must now lend all our energies. The time is near when constructors will build great airplanes equipped with motors of necessary capacity, which will make the journey in any kind of

With the actual social activities ending tonight, Chamberlin, under the guidance of the officials of the Lufthansa, the world's greatest aerial transportation organization, Chamberlin will see all the work of the institution Saturday.

The future route of Chamberlin and Levine has not been definitely decided. It is probable that they will visit Prague, Munich and Vienna. Chamberlin also has expressed the desire to visit Premier Mussolini in Rome, and in this way pay some tribute to the nation that gave Bellanca, designer of the Columbia, to the world.

Metal airplanes occupied Chamberlin's attention for a part of the day. He visited the Rohrbach Metal Airplane company and was most enthusiastic about the possibilities in this direction.

The Americans today received radio messages from their wives. Mrs. Chamberlin and Mrs. Levine stated that they are well, and anxious to greet their husbands. This is Mrs. Chamberlin's first European trip.

Incidentally, as regards wives, Levine was quite interested in a letter written to a New York newspaper, presumably by Mrs. Henrietta Swinerton, president of "the Union of Oppressed Wives," bitterly denouncing Levine because he hopped off from Roosevelt field without notifying Mrs. Levine.

"She's right," commented Levine. "But I hope they won't electrocute me."

The two heroes are swamped with gifts. A new brand of Bohemian beer has been named for Chamberlin. Chamberlin and Levine on advice of the Ambassadorial staff, will forego the pleasure of meeting their wives at Bremen next week and will, instead, accept certain pressing invitations which will keep them from Berlin for a week or ten days.

When Mrs. Chamberlin and Mrs. Levine arrive at Bremen, they will be entertained by the officials of that city, and Lufthansa will carry them as guest passengers to Berlin.

On Sunday, Chamberlin and Levine will set out for Munich and Vienna. They will be escorted by German flyers and, in fact, will have an aerial escort wherever they fly in central Europe.

LODI—Bids to be opened for new city hall here.

RECEPTION FOR LINDBERGH TO BE BROADCAST

Western radio fans will have the opportunity to hear the gigantic reception to be accorded Captain Charles Lindbergh upon his arrival in the United States, Saturday, June 11, from 9 to 11:00 a. m. Pacific time, according to Earle C. Anthony, owner of KFI.

The National Broadcasting Company will furnish the great events to the Pacific Coast Network, KFI, Los Angeles, KHQ, Spokane; KGO, MO and KFOA, Seattle; KGW, Portland; KPD, San Francisco; and KGO, Oakland. Fifty-five other stations throughout the country will be connected for this great event.

From microphones in the Navy Yard in Washington, D. C., announcers will describe the arrival of Lindbergh on the cruiser Memphis as he steams up the Potomac river. In the several miles between the navy yard and the Washington Monument, where the great outdoor reception of the President and his cabinet will tender their welcome, microphones will be placed at intervals to enable the announcers to tell the progress of the parade on Pennsylvania Avenue to the Monument.

This welcome is to be held in the open air and more than one hundred thousand spectators are expected to attend. Speeches of Lindbergh, the president, and the members of his cabinet will be transmitted by the radio to the homes of millions of American people who will be waiting to catch the sound of the greatest of all American heroes.

KFI has also made plans to broadcast the reception to be tendered Captain Charles Lindbergh at a reception by the Secretary of State, the Minnesota Society and the National Press Club. This will go on the air from 6 p. m., to 8 p. m. Pacific standard time.

This will mean that two distinct opportunities will be available to the radio listeners to hear the voice of Lindbergh.

The two programs will be simultaneously broadcast by the National Broadcasting Company thru their combined network of stations that number over 60 super-

WOOD COUNTRY SHOWN IN FILM AT CALIFORNIA

"Wings of the Storm" Fox Film latest feature and its first showing at the California theatre yesterday and proved very fine entertainment, judging from the reaction of the audience. This is a story of a man and a woman, a girl and a dog and is replete with thrills, suspense and humor.

The story is of the woods country and has for its principal characters a forest ranger, played by Reed Howes; an actress, played by Virginia Browne Fair; a rascal, played by William Russell; and a dog, played by Thunder.

There is some fine acting by the human members of the cast and the story is splendidly motivated and of great interest. Then there is the sensational acting of Thunder, the dog, who is to be understood as a part of the story. He not only seems to follow directions, but does so with a full understanding of what is expected of him.

Other film features include "Midnight Follies," a Mermaid comedy, and International News. On the stage Matilda Meyer presents the year's smartest "Kid Revue," with fifteen of Richmond's cleverest kiddies, and Larry Canelo, at the console of the huge organ.

Boy Scout Troop No. 1 Elects Officers

Election of officers took place at a meeting held by Troop One, Girl Scouts, yesterday afternoon in the Boy Scout hall.

Troop officers named were: Margaretie Goldman, treasurer, and Louise Berghold, reporter.

Patrol officers were named as follows:
Poppy Patrol—Christine Troya, leader (re-elected); Margaret Russell, scribe.
Bluebell Patrol—Dorothy Oswill, leader; Rowena Brusie, assistant leader; Mary Borghi, scribe.

Trifle Stern

REED HOWES and Virginia Browne Fair in a scene from "WINGS OF THE STORM" now being screened at the California theatre.

LITTLE GIRL ON BIG TRIP AT RICHMOND

There's a treat in store for you today down at the Richmond theatre where none other than William Haines and Claire Windsor are holding forth in Robert Z. Leonard's production of "A Little Journey" and it's some journey, too.

If you liked Billy Haines in "Brown of Harvard" (and who didn't?) you love him as George Manning in this Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture. He plays a devil-may-care young wise-cracker, as likeable as he is irresponsible, and the way that boy makes love is nobody's business. If I had been "Claire Windsor's" place the picture would have faded right out in the third reel.

"A Little Journey" is just that. It's a yarn about a rich New York girl, suddenly made poor by accident in oil, who decides to accept the proposal of a retired San Francisco business man. On her trip west she meets "George," and right there the complications set in. Our old friend, Harry Carey, is the San Francisco business man, though I hardly recognized him without his chaps.

I can't tell you how the story turns out for it would spoil your enjoyment of it, but it ends to the satisfaction of everybody. Claire Windsor, I think, is just the loveliest thing ever seen in pictures, and when she is indignant at "Billy," notice I call him "Billy," she is more beautiful than ever.

Other features in the same program include "Hot Doggie," a roaring comedy; and "Peaceful City," a screen novelty.

BOB ROBINSON DEFEATS GENE CLINE AT EL CERRITO

COLORED FLASH WINS NOD OVER FRESNO BOXER

A good-sized crowd of fight fans saw Bob Robinson, colored Denver middleweight, win a well-earned decision over Gene Cline of Fresno last night at the El Cerrito Athletic club.

The colored fighter had things pretty much his own way through out, and the decision met with popular favor. Cline looked much different from the boy who defeated Jimmy Duffy and other top notchers four or five years ago.

Bobby Ertle, veteran Oakland featherweight, advanced another notch along his comeback road by defeating Ray Walker of Oakland in the six-round semi-final.

The boys put up a good battle with Ertle having the edge. It was the second time that he has defeated Walker at El Cerrito.

In the four-round special event Johnny Lawson of Oakland gave Billy Watson of Eureka a sound pasting, only to receive a draw for his efforts. Fans were generally of the opinion that Referee Benny Wagner booted one in calling the battle a draw.

Caesar Bertoni of Richmond held Lou Richards to a draw in a four-round bout. Neither boxer seemed overly inclined to mix it up, with the result that the bout was uninteresting.

Fresco Lenda of Manila decided Johnny Lario of Elmhurst in a four-rounder, and Billy Lakeman of Oakland kayaked Nate Hirschman of Oakland in the four-round curtain raiser.

Jack Willis, who meets Dave Shade, pride of Richmond, June 15 at the Oakland auditorium, was introduced and received a big ovation from the fans.

MEET RECORDS MAY FALL AT CHICAGO TODAY

(By Universal Service)

CHICAGO, June 9.—When will the limit be reached on the speed a man may run a given distance, or how high or far he can jump, or how far he can throw a weight?

Twenty years ago college young men ran fast, but they are running faster now, for new records are being set all the time.

And they could jump high, but still new records are being set. Superior ability is the only answer to the jumps but in the runs, the split second watch has

Molla Mallory Beaten At Kent By Helen Wills

RECKENHAM, Kent, England, June 10. American tennis player Helen Wills, only recently defeated Mrs. Molla Mallory in the semi-final of the Kent ladies' tennis championships.

Mrs. Mallory was entirely unimpaired, winning with a score of 6-0, 6-1.

Mrs. L. A. Godfree, formerly Kitty McKane, the English champion, defeated Miss Elizabeth Ryan by the score of 2-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Helen Wills and Mrs. Godfree will meet in the final. Both have won matches from each other, although Mrs. Wills has never beaten Mrs. Godfree in England, and Mrs. Godfree has never beaten Helen in America.

Probably had a great deal to do with records.

And this same split second watch will be used in the sixth national intercollegiate track and field meet, which will be held at Soldiers' field beginning tomorrow and continuing far into the evening Saturday.

According to the information divulged by such famous personages as Alonzo Stagg, professor of football, track, basketball and what have you at the University of Chicago, who is the sponsor for the meet, there is but little chance that more than one world's record will go glimmering into the horizon through the performance of the men entered tomorrow.

That record is the 440 yard dash. The best time ever made by a human being is 47.4 seconds. A young fellow named Herman Phillips of Butler already had negotiated the distance in 48.7 seconds without being pushed a bit, so Stagg feels that if given some sort of competition he may set a new record.

The 220 record set last year by Roland Locke, the famous Nebraska sprinter, of 20.9 seconds, probably will be standing erect after the event is run Saturday.

The high jump set last year by Haggard of Texas probably will be there when Burg of Chicago and all the rest have taken the last of their three jumps. Haggard leaped 6 feet 7-14 inches.

But the 110 yard record may fall. It is now held by Locke with .09.9 seconds. Many of the entrants have performed better than that this year.

The pole vault may fall, for there is a young pole expert from Michigan State college by the name of McAttee who has gone 13 feet 3 and 5-8 inches, which is pretty high up in the air.

"Chuch" McGinnis of Wisconsin, star hurdler and general all round athlete won't be present, final examinations, requested by school authorities, similar to those generally not taken by Col. Char-les Lindbergh, keeping him at Madison.

RICHMOND HIGH SWIMMERS IN ALAMEDA MEET

Richmond school swimmers have completed their training for the Inter Bay Cities Scholastic swimming championships to be staged this afternoon at Neptune Beach, Alameda, under the direction of the Pacific Athletic Association.

The big meet will be one of the big feature events of the all day carnival to be held by the Spanish War veterans of the Bay cities for the purpose of raising funds to bring the National Bicentennial of 1929 to San Francisco.

The competing schools include the best swimmers in the following: San Francisco—Sutro, Lafayette, Grattan, Daniel Webster, Francis Scott Keyes, Roosevelt Junior, Galileo high, Horace Mann, Lowell high, Missions High and Polytechnic.

Oakland—Prescott Junior High, Glenview High and Technical. Alameda—Washington, Alameda high, Foster, Garfield Junior high, and Claremont high.

Related entries still are coming in and Secretary Ed Grace of the association says he will include the names to the last possible moment so that above list of entrants is likely to be considerably augmented. So unexpected was the number of entrants that Grace had to sent out 8, 0, 8, signals yesterday in order to get additional help to handle the work.

The events to be competed and for which gold, silver, and bronze medals will be awarded are as follows: Elementary school boys, 25 and 50 yards free style. Elementary school girls, 25 and 50 yards free style. Junior high boys, 25 to 50 yards free style. Junior high girls, 25 and 50 yards free style. High boys class '29-30, 50, 100 yards free and 50 yds. backstroke.

The three schools scoring the highest number of points in the finals will be awarded special silver cups. It is expected to make this an annual event.

PITTSBURGH TO PLAY SANNIES HERE ON SUNDAY

The Sannies and the Ironworkers are now tied with six victories and two losses apiece, and tomorrow's game will give the winners undisputed possession of first place. But one more game remains to be played after Sunday before the first half of the schedule is completed.

Jones will start Roland Roberts, his big righthander, against the Pittsburgh sluggers. Cano, former Oakland Coast League recruit, will do the pitching for the visitors.

Reports from the up-country town last night indicated that a large number of Pittsburgh fans will make the trip, accompanied by the Y. M. I. drum corps.

With Speed Maddock, veteran Oakland bush pitcher hurling a two-hit game, Phil Jones' Sannies drew a notch nearer first place in the City League yesterday when they defeated the Ben Malik by a 4 to 1 score.

The Ben Malik were the first to score, making their lone tally in the first inning. With one away Hildebrandt walked, advanced on Snavey's fly and scored when Escobar singled.

The one-run lead lasted until the third when the Sannies punched three hits to score all of their four tallies. After Barbieri had fanned, Moss gained life on McCoy's error. Maddock and Daley then followed with hits, scoring Moss. Greathouse then put the game on ice with a home run.

Ed Sullivan's SPORT WHIRL

They are again attempting to prove that the Dempsey-Tunney fight was crooked.

At one particular light was crooked, the Civil War was a phony and the late World War was a publicity stunt.

I will concede that Tunney sought to obtain a fair break from the referee. When he hooked up with Maxie Hoff, the Philadelphia fight manager, I do not doubt for a moment that Hoff promised Tunney that he would get him an even break.

That does not constitute larceny or anything approaching it. As is eventually developed, Tunney did not have to take the sensible precaution. He beat Dempsey so badly that the referee became a minor figure in the fight.

Whether or not Hoff had enough influence to guarantee Tunney an even deal from the officials who handled the fight is irrelevant. The officials had no part in awarding Gene Tunney the championship. I am equally positive that Maxie Hoff did not put any sleeping powders in Dempsey's coffee.

Dempsey was beaten on the up and up on that particular evening. Any attempt to get behind that fact is a forced attempt to find evil where it did not exist.

The facts to consider are these: Dempsey denies that he was doped. Tunney won easily and decisively. The title did not change hands on poor officiating.

ATTELL HAS LEGITIMATE KICK
SANDWICHED into the latest "scandal" is little Abe Attell and Abe is in there very much against his will.

It was Attell who heard Billy Gibson, Tunney's manager, voice a willingness to trade 20 per cent interest in Tunney for $50,000 in cash.

Attell got in touch with his friend, Maxie (Boo Boo) Hoff, the Philadelphia, and told him to take Gibson at his word. Attell had seen Tunney work and was dead sure that he would beat Dempsey.

After bringing Gibson and Hoff together, Attell faded from the picture, according to all evidence.

"Now look at the pot I'm in," means Attell. "They are even trying to prove that I had a hand in passing the title to Tunney, though any person who knew boxing would have picked Tunney on form."

"It doesn't seem fair that just because I did make a bad mistake once upon a time, my past record is always dragged up. I have been on the square ever since that World Series jam and, if there is any fairness in the world, why won't people let the past take care of itself? Every one makes mistakes; I made a bad one, but I have done my penance for that."

"Can't they give me a break?"

SHARKEY REAL MENACE TO GENE
TUNNEY can find a lot more to engross his attention if he points his gaze toward Boston, Mass., where Jack Sharkey is restlessly awaiting the call to arms.

It now appears that Jack Sharkey will be the man Tunney will have to meet in his first defense of the title. Jack Dempsey is attempting to get back into condition on the Coast, but pictures on spite reports that he never looked better.

There is a growing sentiment in fight circles that Sharkey will give Tunney the liveliest session Gene has ever engaged in.

Sharkey himself believes that he will knock out the champion, and this might be dismissed as irrelevant if it were not for the fact that Sharkey has a distressing habit of doing what he says he will do. I was talking to Johnny Backley, Sharkey's manager, recently and he dropped something which should be given serious attention: "Sharkey had always been troubled by bad hands up to the last few months," said Backley. "When he fought Maloney, he knew that he could let drive with either hand without breaking a bone. His knockout of Maloney was not a fluke knockout. He hit him as hard as any heavyweight could have hit him. Sharkey can punch, he always could punch, but up to the present time he couldn't take a chance on brittle hands. His hands are O. K. now and don't forget it."

HEART TROUBLE
Marvelously Relieved
While visiting her daughter here in Oakland, Mrs. W. H. Morton of Stockton was in such great pain due to Heart Trouble that it affected her left hand. She could neither walk nor rest with the slightest comfort. All the physicians she consulted pressed the opinion that she had not more than ten days to live. She truly seemed to be at the point of death when she took Wan Herbs. It was cooked for her at home, and that night she had the first rest for many weeks of terrible suffering. After four weeks of the Fong Wan Herb Treatment, she was able to return to her home in Stockton. From that city she has sent the following testimonial to the Fong Wan Herb Co.:
OWES HER LIFE TO FONG WAN HERBS
Stockton, Cal., March 21, 1927.
To the Fong Wan Herb Co.: I have been a sufferer with calvarial trouble of the heart for some time. I became so ill that my doctors, who were many, gave me but a week or ten days to live. I decided to try the Fong Wan Herb Co., and to the amazement of all who attended me I was able to walk into their office after taking the Herbs one week. I have now taken them four weeks and I not only have a good heart, but have also been helped in other ailments. I cannot speak too highly of the Fong Wan Herbs, as they owe my life to them. I am very grateful to Fong Wan for his kindness.

KIDDIE REVUE MAKES BIG HIT

Fourteen members of Miss May's dancing class appeared in a special dancing number before patrons of the California theatre last night. The young dancers made a decided hit with their performance and will appear again this evening at the popular showhouse.

The girls in the dance number included Grace Childs, Bernice Newford, Mildred Lowell, Mary Gene Lowell, Helen Youngs, Jean Johnson, Shirley Orthman, Gladys Blount, Jennie Walker, Eleanor Brensel, Elizabeth Tease, Catharine Keyser, Dorothy Heineman and Eleanor Soldavini.

Mrs. Sanford To Attend Exhibit In S. F. June 13

Mrs. W. H. Sanford, realtor, and daughter will attend the annual exhibit of the California association of Photographers to be given in the Ball Room of the Palace Hotel, San Francisco, Monday evening.

The photographic work of many artists from all parts of the world will be exhibited, and an attractive musical program will be given.

10 Graduated From Selby School

Diplomas were presented at closing exercises of the Selby grammar school last night in the Selby school auditorium. Robert E. White, assistant superintendent of Contra Costa schools, presented the diplomas.

Operetta, "The Golden Whistle," was given by the primary pupils; fancy dances by Ida and Naomi Case; "The Isle of Jewels" by grammar grade.

The graduates: Lenora Counts, Enid Guppy, Olga Jacobsen, Josephine Perez, Ruth Myers, Florence Rodriguez, James Galloway, Henry Yacovetti, James Perez and Jose Martinez.

The faculty of this school consists of Mrs. E. H. Diffin, principal, and Misses Eva Luning, Gertrude Kelly and Mrs. Clemo.

Sailing To Hunt Coli And Nungesser

MEMBERS of the expedition which will search for Nungesser and Coli, missing French transatlantic flyers in the wilds of Newfoundland, are shown here ready to embark for Halifax. The photo shows (left to right) Anthony Fokker, designer of the plane; Jeanne d'Arc, the searching plane; Mrs. Fokker, Major E. Sydney Cotton, pilot; Mrs. Cotton, Mrs. C. Caldwell, Cy Caldwell, pilot, and James McNeil. The Fokkers will stop off at Halifax.

We are loaded down to the gun's with wayfarers from distant ports, and the first spray of his homeland's tribute that broke over the young colonel at sea today was the fore-runner of the tidal wave that will engulf him tomorrow.

By the time you read these lines the Memphis ought to be about close enough to the dock at the Washington navy yard for the colonel to hear the far-off murmur of the crowd of 500,000 that will be waiting to tell him he is welcome home.

500,000 Expected

You may note that I have enlarged upon my estimate of 250,000 of yesterday. The buzz in the streets of Washington give me the impression that there will be that many visitors alone, with the capital certainly contributing as many more from its population.

Any venerable resident of Washington will tell you that there hasn't been anything like it before in the history of the town, not in point of excitement, anyway, even including the night all Washington suddenly went "daffy" and started out to celebrate the victory of the Senators in the world's series.

That was a wild occasion as this chronicler, a survivor of the pulling and hauling in the streets, can testify, but I anticipate something bigger, if not better, tomorrow night after the Memphis has safely docked, and the young colonel is in the arms of the populace, so to speak.

"Lindy" Prepared

What with the mail and messages shoveled aboard the Memphis today, and with the air above him all a-flutter with the hum of the motors of the advance guard of welcoming planes, the young colonel must have some slight inkling that he is expected, although he is pretty naïve, at that.

You remember, he took letters of introduction with him to France and his first remarks on alighting from the Spirit of St. Louis was "I am Charles Lindbergh" as if he felt the crowd at Le Bourget might be expecting any one of a whole flock of ocean flyers.

But as he slumbers on board the Memphis tonight, the colonel couldn't possibly dream of the extent of the hurrah that is waiting him here, not even if he ate a large Welsh rabbit just before retiring. They are preparing to make history here tomorrow, my friends, nothing less.

To Dock At 11

The Memphis is now scheduled to dock about 11 o'clock. The colonel's mother, Mrs. Evangeline Lindbergh, will be the first aboard to greet her son. I now use his highest title in preference to all others, because he is twice a colonel, having been commissioned such by both the Missouri national guard and by President Coolidge, and a man who is twice a colonel is certainly entitled to be called that once.

There is just one solid column of newspaper type to summarize what is to be done to the colonel while he is in Washington to make him feel that we are glad

Ahem! Ahem! College Girl Doesn't Pet, Hates Jazz

NEW YORK, June 10. The present-day college girl, far from being the scatter-brained, jazz-mad, "petting" flapper that she has been called, is a serious-minded young woman, anxious to take up the responsibilities of life through a career of marriage.

Josephine Barclay of New York, Vassar senior and holder of the highest honor within the power of the stringent body to bestow, thus came to the defense of the sweet girl graduate today.

Miss Barclay is herself an exemplification of the sensible, capable, conscientious girl she described.

She was "chief justice" in the system of student self-control government at one of the country's most important women's colleges. As such, she disciplined girls for infractions of rules and, if the case were serious, called to order a sort of "supreme court" to "try" the student.

Only a girl completely trustworthy could be trusted to fill such a high position.

"If ever college girls were as reckless as they have been painted, they have gone in the other direction now," she said.

"Most of them are well poised and have the good taste that does not allow them to overdress, rough too much, drink or attract undue attention."

"As to 'petting,' girls are not petting nearly so promiscuously as they were once."

She measured up the program to see. This takes no account of the speeches that are to be poured into his ears, you understand. It does take in the parade, and the decoration by President Coolidge, and all that sort of thing, however. Only one other individual in the history of this country ever had as much fuss made over him, and that was Admiral George Dewey when he came home after knocking the spots off the Spanish ships down in Manila Bay.

However, not even the old admiral was the subject of quite as much national hysteria as the young colonel, because in the first place the admiral was old, and the colonel is young. It must be wonderful to be young, and the colonel! His glorious youth is the colonel's greatest appeal to the popular imagination.

There is much elbowing in the lobby of the Washington hotels, and a confused murmur of voices. Delegates are present from all over the United States, and some of them are as prominent as say, Mayor Large William Thompson, of Chicago, the scales rival of New York's own large William Edwards.

Oddly enough, there are not so many representatives of New York here as might be expected, but that is probably because the New Yorkers are waiting until they get the young colonel all to themselves. They are still feeling a little cold and distant toward Washington for stealing the young colonel away from them—so there New Yorkers.

New Melones Dam Seen As Vital Factor In The Development Of Two Big Irrigation Districts

J. C. Hitchcock and G. N. Rooker left yesterday for Oakland to attend the dedication of the Melones Dam on the Stanislaus river today.

The great dam impounding water and a power house generating electric energy stand today as lasting monuments created by cooperation.

The farmers of two irrigation districts vitally concerned over the need of a more dependable source of supply of water for irrigation joined with a power company primarily interested in power development and successfully worked out what has proved to be a unique and practical way of solving an important agricultural problem.

Under the terms of an agreement between the Oakland and South San Joaquin Irrigation districts on the one hand and the Pacific Gas and Electric company on the other, the irrigation districts have built an arch type, reinforced concrete dam 135 feet high, with a crest of 550 feet. This dam forms a reservoir which has a capacity of 112,500 acre feet and involves an expenditure of $2,200,000, for which amount bonds were voted.

The power house has built a concrete lined horse-shoe shaped tunnel 14 feet in diameter and 4,400 feet in length, which extends from the dam outlet to a power base equipped with two 18,000 horsepower generators erected at a cost of $2,500,000.

The power company pays the irrigation district for the water passing thru the power house at a rate sufficient to pay off the bonded indebtedness and interest in forty years, thus providing water for irrigation without cost to the agriculturalists.

The water, after leaving the power house, passes down the Stanislaus River to the Crocker-Harrington Dam owned by the irrigation districts. At that point the water is diverted into the ditches and flumes owned by each of the districts, as needed by them.

Location Of Dam

The Melones Dam is located on the Stanislaus river about 20 miles below the famous mining town of Melones and eight miles west of Jamestown. The site picked for the structure is at the upper end of a narrow canyon. The powerhouse is located at a point one mile down stream from the canyon, the walls of which are 500 to 600 feet high. From the end of the tunnel the water courses thru steel penstocks and drops to the water wheels in the plant.

Power House Modern

The power house is a steel frame building with concrete floors, walls and roof. It is 111 feet long, 65 feet wide and 52 feet high, equal in height to a four-story building. Housed in this great structure are two massive generators each having a capacity of 18,000 horsepower. Energy generated at the plant will be sent out over wires on a steel tower line to Manteca where it will enter the interconnected transmission system of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

JAMESTOWN—A mile stretch of road between Jamestown and Keystone to be improved.

IN THE GOOD OLD SUMMER TIME!

Those who have experienced difficulty in the past in getting either power or service on their water can now realize the wisdom of buying in the summer time when prices are at their lowest, according to John Ecklund of the Pacific Feed & Fuel Company, 401 Sixteenth Street.

In the summer, says Ecklund, dealers are better equipped to give prompt service, and prices are at the lowest.

Social Bureau Aids 281 In Last Year

A total of 281 families were given aid by the Social Service Bureau of Richmond during the past year, according to a yearly report of the bureau submitted yesterday by Mrs. R. G. Lee, president, and Miss Katherine Lee, secretary.

Persons benefited by the social service work totaled 826, with 6136 garments distributed. Employment was secured for 117 persons.

The report of the bureau for the month of May showed that eighteen families were relieved and $86.73 spent during the month.
